SHORTRIDGE BACKING IS STATE WIDE

From the Mexican border to the Siskiyous, California newspapers are giving widespread editorial support to the re-election candidacy of United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge.

A survey of the newspaper field in every section of the state reveals a tremendous preponderance of the daily and weekly press pledged to the incumbent Republican senator. The list of his editorial sponsors grows daily and is held definitely indicative of the trend toward his re-election.

A number of Democratic newspapers are among those calling upon the voters to return Senator Shortridge to Congress.

Excerpts from some of the newspapers editorially favoring the senator follow:

Ukiah Press—"Senator Shortridge holds committee powers in the senate of incalculable value to California. His committee memberships are the result of ability and seniority and this prestige for California should be retained."

Napa Register—"Twelve years of experience in the senate, seniority on the important senate finance committee and other committees, make Senator Shortridge a very valuable man for California in Washington."

Lakeport Press—"Senator Shortridge is one of the big men of the senate. He has shown he knows how to serve the interests of California."

Oakland Tribune—"Senator Shortridge's re-election is vitally necessary for the safeguarding of California's interests in national legislation."

San Rafael Independent—"In all respects Senator Shortridge meets the exacting requirements demanded in a legislator during these trying times."

San Francisco Motor Carrier—"If the value of his achievements could be totaled it would present a vast sum, for there is scarcely an industry or activity of importance that has not directly benefitted by his labors in Washington."

Half Moon Bay News—"Senator Shortridge stands with the people."

Gilroy Dispatch—"The senator has been a consistent and faithful public servant, loyal to his party."

Pittsburgh Post-Dispatch—"Senator Shortridge should be retained at Washington to continue the good work he has started."

San Francisco Daily Commercial News—"No one can say that Senator Shortridge has not been ready to support the Republican policities at all times, and so long as he is elected a Republican, that is what he should do."

San Jose Mercury-Herald—"The return of Senator Shortridge to the senate is an essential to the proper protection of California's interests."

Petaluma Argus-Courier—"Senator Shortridge has won more protection for California labor and California products than is enjoyed by any other ten states."

Glendale News-Press—"Were Senator Shortridge not sent back for another term the loss to California would be serious. He has performed his task well."

San Diego Union—"Senator Shortridge is a veteran of 12 years' service, consistently a worker for the interests of all California."

The communication is signed by James Mulryan of Beresford, and says, in part: "We realize that it is very hard for a judge to solicit votes and that it becomes the duty of the people to work for and elect an efficient and capable jurist. Therefore we will make every effort possible to acquaint the voters with your many accomplishments."

Others signing the petition besides Mulryan are Thomas Lorton, Eugene Daneri, Josephine Weller, Lucy Mayer, H. S. Ross, Mabel Selenger, Flora Steele, Grace Hartsough, Arthur J. Adams, Reba Lowenthal, Grace L. Tallmadge, Harry Peckham, B. A. White, Mary D. McGuire, and Margaret Warren.

SUNNYVALE MAST CHIEF IS STRICKEN

Lieut.-Comm. Vincent A. Clarke, former commanding officer of the airship Los Angeles and since the first of the year mooring officer at the navy dirigible base at Sunnyvale, died at midnight last night at the Mare Island Naval Hospital at Vallejo. He was 41.

Commander Clarke had been removed to Vallejo at his own request Sunday after having been confined to the alo Alto Hospital with a peritonsilar infection since Thursday.

Funeral plans have not been completed.

The former skipper of the Los Angeles is survived by a daughter, Dorothy Clarke, who lives at the family home at 2025 Alma street, Palo Alto.

Clarke's mother, who is spending the summer at Ocean City, N. J., was notified.

Clarke was a native of Philadelphia and planned to become an engineer when he entered Northeast High School in Philadelphia in 1906.

The Navy proved too attractive, however, and he obtained an appointment in his senior year to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. He was graduated in 1914, a few days before the World War began.

After graduation he attended torpedo and submarine school and in 1917, when the United States joined the allies, he was assigned to submarine duty in the Azores. Later he was transferred to command of the AL-10, one of seven submarines on patrol duty in Bantry Bay on the coast of Ireland, a strategic point command St. George's channel between Ireland and England.

Parkman Wins Backing Here

Harry L. Parkman, candidate for senator on the Republican ticket, was in town yesterday calling on the voters and everywhere he received encouragement.

Mr. Parkman comes before the voters with a splendid legislative record, one that should insure his election.

He has had a wide experience in legislative work; has sponsored legislation of a far-reaching value, and has blocked many ill-advised and dangerous measures while in the assembly.

This seasoned legislator will be an asset to the county in the senate.

BUYERS CAN LIFT CITY OUT OF BOG

By HOWARD I. WOOD
Manager, Redwood City Chamber Of Commerce

WOULD Redwood City and vicinity like to emerge almost entirely from the so-called depression?

There is a way by which it can be done, and this way lies within the determination of the people now living here. This statement may seem fantastic, but it is readily provable by authentic figures.

Redwood City is at the present time doing $6,000,000 per year less retail business than the total buying power of the community. If it were possible to turn all of this purchasing power into local business channels the effect would be almost unbelievable.

If every civic organization, lodge, club, school, church, family, and individual determined upon such a course, it could be done. If done, it would return definite and remarkable values to each and every person participating in the effort.

Here are just a few of the things that would result if the community's purchasing power were used entirely at home:

It would give employment to the heads of 250 additional families, or it would wipe out more than the equivalent of all the unemployment in the city.

It would fill 55 more retail stores, or it would give an annual gross increase of $40,000 to each of the city's existing 150 retail stores.

With the employment of 250 more heads of families, it would mean the sale or rental of 250 more homes.

It would mean an increase of 1,000 people in population, all being families with definite incomes and therefore of worthwhile purchasing ability.

Redwood City merchants acting through the retail division of the chamber of commerce have determined to make every effort to bring about just as much as possible of this increase in business. It is important to the merchants that they secure as much as possible of this increase, but it is equally important to the community and to its residents.

Retailing at the present time employs two times as many people in this locality as all other forms of activity combined. At a time when very little expansion is taking place industrially, a great source of increased business and prosperity to the community at large can be found through retail avenues.

To accomplish this does not require the creation of new purchasing power. The necessary purchasing power for a great addition to prosperity already exists in the community. Only two things are required to derive the possible benefit therefrom: (1) A determination on the part of retail stores to provide the stocks, salesmen, and competitive prices to merit the necessary increase, and (2) the determination of the people of this community to serve their own best interests and help to sustain their jobs and the value of their homes, by making their purchases within their own community.

Every man and woman who takes part in this campaign to increase trade and employment will thereby give much less in taxes or direct contributions for the relief of unemployment.

By this method we receive 100 per cent value for our purchasing dollar; relieve unemployment, bring about normal prosperity in our community, and cancel the depression and all its effects.

By a negative method we have forced upon ourselves the necessity of contributing directly and through taxes to relieve unemployment, and to alleviate the effects of the depression; we see businesses being taken over by the board of trade, and a constant mounting number of vacancies in business houses and homes.

It actually costs the individual more to sustain the latter picture than the former.

Will you take part in the constructive way to overcome present difficulties?

Redwood City's automobile liability insurance contract was let to the Public Indemnity Insurance Company for $750 for the period between July 10, 1932, and August 10, 1933, at a meeting of the city council Monday.

The contract was ordered after it had been shown that the figure was lower than would be possible through the lowest bid submitted, $697.91, plus an amount of $147.63 for coverage from July 10 to August 10.

Payments of improvement assessment penalties under the 1915 improvement act and others, which have been waived previously, were ordered waived until January 1, equalization to act on assessments, 1933.

Brought to order as a board of the council allowed 10 reductions and ordered no changes on 10 other requests.

Reductions were made as follows: James Harden, 10 acres, block 502, reduced to $800 per acre; J. Lepoz, two parcels in block 501, $1600; 20 acres in block 501-A, $800 per acre; E. W. Magruder, lot 3, block 432, reduced from $7,500 to $7,000; Mrs. James Day, block 352, assessed under the names of Mrs. Grace Williams and P. E. Women First Put On Local Juries

San Mateo county had the first women grand jurors ever to serve in the state of California, according to the records of the county clerk. Judge George H. Buck introduced this innovation in the state on February 3, 1913, and the jury was empaneled on November 5, 1913.

There were 17 women on the panel of 30, 11 of whom served after their names were drawn from the box to make up the 19 grand jurors necessary, according to the records. Judge Buck was well pleased with the work and attention given by the women to their duties and reports published in the papers of that year state that he paid them high compliment for their service.

Walter Knight of Woodside was the foreman of the jury and the list of ladies included Elizabeth M. Vickerson, Leila R. McRoskey, Julia M. Hawes, Mary R. Gilbert, Augusta Geary, Dora Wilson, Diva Belli, Delia F. Spellman, Mary H. Miller, Mary E. Fletcher, and Martha E. Billings.

THIEF STEALS WHOLE DINNER

2 San Carlos Homes Are Entered In Absences

SAN CARLOS, Aug. 9.—A complete dinner, with a roast and all the "fixin's," is part of the loot obtained here by week-end burglars who entered two homes in the absence of their owners.

A hungry intruder lifted the latch on a rear door of the home of Mrs. John Farnham, 613 Walnut street, and raided the pantry, leaving it devoid of the roast and other eatables which were to have been the repast of the Farnhams.

Not satisfied with mere food, burglars who gained entrance to the Harry W. Mahany residence at 552 Walnut street, in the next block, made off with a wallet.

Police believe the same party or parties responsible for both burglaries.

Hess Ranch Is Scene Of Many Deer Hunts

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hess Jr. of 205 Hopkins avenue, this city, returned home Tuesday last after a short sojourn at their 800-acre ranch in the Mount Hamilton range ten miles north of the Lick Observatory, where they entertained a number of nimrods during the opening of the deer season.

Bucks are reported by them as being plentiful and any one who understands hunting the antlered beauties and can shoot a rifle with accuracy has no difficulty in bringing home the bacon.

Fourteen were at the ranch up until August 6 and accounted for nine deer. Arnold is somewhat chesty over a forked horn which he brought down that was marked by someone probably when the buck was quite young. The right ear of the animal was cut off at the top and then an "L" cut made down toward the lobe. It could not have been made by barbed wire and is clearly an identification mark. The animal was killed at 300 yards on the top of Mount Day, and the owner of the ranch is anxious to know who caught that deer when young, marked it and let it go again.

Arnold has returned to the ranch where he will be host to the deer hunters until the end of the season on September 15.

Approval of assessments levied for the condemnation of land to open Live Oak avenue to University drive was delayed Tuesday when the city council continued the protest hearing to next Tuesday after several Live Oak avenue residents vociferously protested the levy.

The assessment, which totals $1374.96, has been split up among property owners in the Live Oak avenue district Attorney Whitworth asid the city has donated $1500 to the paving cost of Live Oak avenue as an offset to the cost of the land necessary to be acquired for the opening o. the end of the street. At first, he said, the council was doubtful whether the city could afford any contribution whatsoever. In addition, he said, the city is also paying $543 for the incidental expenses in the condemnation of the land and has advanced under court order in order to gain possession a total of $1574.-96. This latter sum, according to Whitworth is what the city is seeking to recover through the assessment.

The group of protestants, however, expressed the belief that the city should pay the entire cost of opening, because it benefited the entire town. Much was made of the erection of 20 electroliers in the Live Oak avenue improvement project, whereas only six of them are now lighted.

City Attorney Whitworth replied that the city was in effect paying for the cost of the opening because of the donation of $1500 to paving cost as an offset. That the property owners had not been told that was the case was alleged by Mrs. J. J. Alexander. Whitworth also declared that the actual cost of lighting the electroleiers was obviously not included in their purchase and installation price.

After extensive discussion, members of the council voted to continue the hearing to next Tuesday night. Among the other protestants who spoke last night were John O'Keefe and F. M. Haydenabber.

Communications were received from W. L. Iverson of 900 Roble avenue asking that the grass and weeds on a neighboring lot be burned off and from Charles W. Call requesting that he be granted a permit to open a smoke shop in the O'Keefe building.

THIS'LL STOP 'EM

LONDON, Eng.—A device which will effectively check the motor bandit menace has been invented. It consists of a great length of spiral steel wire compressed into a very small space and held by means of patent springs. When thrown into the roadway, the springs are released. The coil remains, barring the thoroughfare. The practicability of the device was tested and proved after successful experiment with a high-powered car. The car, driven a mile a minute over the wire, was pulled up within the space of 30 feet.

Menlo Hunters Bring In Deer, Bear And Snake

Three bucks, a bear and a rattlesnake were the collective "kill" of two parties of Menlo Park hunters who returned Tuesday from a week's hunting trip in two widely separated regions.

Chief honors of the hunt went to Al Groce and Don Ryan who returned with two bucks and a bear killed in Lake county. The deer, one a forked horn and the other a three-pointer, weighed about 100 pounds each. The prize of the hunt, however, was a brown bear which was brought down with seven bullets in its hide. Mr. Bruin was found to measure seven and one-half feet in length and weighed over 400 pounds.

A party of six Menlo hunters consisting of John, Kip and Joe Morey, Marion Biggs, Des Sullivan and "Buck" Bracesco are back from a trip to the Big Sur country with only one deer for the week's hunting. The boys reported a scarcity of bucks in the region due to heavy rainfall which has supplied many of the creeks and springs in the country with water. John Morey was the lucky hunter bringing down a 125-pound forked horn after four days of fruitless search. Morey killed the buck with a single pistol shot. The party also bagged a rattlesnake.

Bill Pfiefer of Mayfield shot a three-pointer while hunting in San Gregorio last Saturday.

Dead Man Believed Formerly Of Phoenix

While a San Francisco newspaper reported that it had identified the man whose body was found Monday at the base of a 50-foot cliff at Salada Beach as that of I. M. Seliger of Phoenix, Ariz., Sheriff James J. McGrath said he could not be sure of that until he heard from the Phoenix police chief on photographs sent there of the dead man.

The newspaper says the identification was made through a pair of shoes worn by the man. The shoes bore the initials "I. M. S."

McGrath and Constable Silvio Landini believe the man committed suicide. A razor was found stuck in the sand near the body.

Saving Of $200,000 Yearly Is Seen As Possible Under Proposed County Charter

Guns of public criticism at the hearing on the proposed San Mateo county charter were turned Tuesday night on high costs of county government and the group of citizens present demanded to know what the board of freeholders had done to bring relief along this line.

This was answered by Chairman James B. Howell of Atherton that the charter provided for centralization of responsibility, coordination of effort, elimination of duplication—these to the limits allowed without conflict with existing state law—and that the result would be a saving of at least $200,000 yearly after the first two years.

But a handful of citizens was present—the entire assemblage including the freeholders not numbering more than 50—but the debate at times waxed warm especially under the barrage of criticism of H. W. Schwerin, president of the Tax Reduction League of San Mateo, who assailed the management of county affairs by the board of supervisors, criticised the county hospital for trying to become "the finest institution of its kind in the world," and attacked election and printing costs.

In support of his statement that huge savings would be possible under the charter, Chairman Howell said that existing costs are not due so much to the incompetence of the board of supervisors as through the "poor tools" with which it now works.

A similar statement was made by John C. Nowell, city manager of Hillsborough, who said the board was handicapped through the "cumbersome" methods now in use.

Both were confident that the charter would remedy the faults of the existing governmental practice.

City-County Set-Up

One of the outstanding points touched upon during the discussion was the charter's provision that the county can assume the functions of a municipality or special district if the people of that area so choose.

This caused Dave Walter, Redwood City real estate man, to ask if a single city-county set-up would be possible in San Mateo county, which was answered by Chairman Howell by the statement that state law requires at least 200,000 population in a county before it can take on the status of a city-county.

Attorney W. H. Morrissey, president of the Redwood City Promotion Association, brought out that Orange county is proposing to have the 200,000 limitation removed, leaving it up to the people of a county to decide when they were ready to merge their city and county governments.

If this limitation is removed, San Mateo county would automatically become a city-county when all districts and municipalities had delegated their functions to the county, as is possible under the terms of the charter.

Special Districts Limited

Costs of special districts were touched upon by some of the speakers, and the freeholders said their charter provided that no such projects could be put over nor any expense incurred unless the chief executive of the county had passed upon the need and feasibility of the proposal.

County assessments was another subject for discussion, and one speaker said that in view of the fact that federal and state governments were looking for new sources of revenue and may tax real estate, it was advisable to have values low and tax rates high because the higher governments would use the county assessor's figures in levying taxes.

For a point of information, Louise G. Schmidt of Redwood City asked why the freeholders had determined that a group of elected officials shall hereafter be appointed while certain of the officers will continue to be elective.

This was answered by Chairman Howell who said it was the aim of the freeholders to separate the policy-making group of officers from the purely administrative, leaving the latter to be appointed by the chief executive.

Under the terms of the charter, he said, no present office holder would lose his job as he would have 18 months in which to serve from the time the charter became effective until the expiration of his elective term.

At that time, Chairman Howell said, there would be no reason why a heretofore elective officer would not be reappointed by the chief executive if his work has been entirely satisfactory. If it has not been, the official would then naturally be removed, Howell said.

Explains Board's Stand

Explaining the freeholders' stand on this matter, Howell said the elective officers would be the two superior judges, who form the highest judiciary in the county; the sheriff, who will give strict enforcement or be lenient according to the type of county The People wanted; the district attorney, who would give his full time to the legal work of the county; the auditor, who would be directly in touch with The People, and the assessor, who would place a high or low value on the property according to The People's wishes.

The clerk, recorder, treasurer, tax collector, surveyor and coroner and public administrator, whose work is mainly clerical, would be appointed by the chief executive and responsible directly to him. The latter would not be permitted to interfere with the county officials so far as their duties outlined by state law are concerned.

In this way, these officials would be made responsible to someone besides themselves, it was pointed out.

One of the citizens protested the "synopsis" form in which the charter had been published, but it was explained by Chairman Howell that the freeholders were not permitted to incur any expense in printing the document, and that it was stripped of its legal verbiage so that the newspapers could concisely present its contents to The People without cost to the county.

Other public hearings will be held on August 17, 24, and 31, and sub-committees of the freeholders will meet interested public groups on August 12, 19 and 26.

REMOVAL OF CITY CLERK DEMANDED

San Bruno Committee Asks Bohm, Maurer To Retire

SAN BRUNO, Aug. 11.—Legal proceedings for removal of City Clerk Emil Bohn were urged upon the city council here last night by the citizens' committee of nine investigating municipal affairs.

The group also asked that City Councilman William Maurer be removed.

A third recommendation was that the money now in the revolving fund be returned to the funds to which it belongs and that if a revolving fund is necessary that it be handled differently than at present.

Another recommendation of the citizens committee was that all cash be deposited in the banks daily and if this plan is not practical, that the city receipts be cleared through the treasurer's office at least once a month.

It was also urged that the routine work of the water department and clerk's office be kept up to date and that monthly bills be issued promptly and that collections be made as soon as possible.

Monthly reports showing bad accounts for water and other items were requested, and it was urged that the council proceed to collect against the city officials for bad checks accepted on city accounts.

A final request was that the city council sue the city officials for failure to bank money promptly, thereby recovering on money lost as interest.

The committee was headed by J. H. Galleher as chairman, and the report was presented to Mayor E. J. Maguire at the regular meeting last night. The investigation of municipal affairs was begun about three weeks ago.

Bohm and Maurer did not issue statements as to the views of the committee's report.

Eastern Star Gives Cabaret Dance As Benefit

With proceeds given to its fund for philanthropy, Sequoia Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was hostess Saturday night at a cabaret dance, "A Night In Paris," at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Marjorie Thompson, worthy matron of the chapter, was assisted in arranging the affair by the worthy patron, Jay T. Cooper, and a committee in which Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Maynard, Jr., Mrs. Phillip Forsyth, Mrs. A. J. Weiss and Mrs. Gus Waller served.

A program featured Miss Genevieve Cunningham in a group of tap dances, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Davis, who also gave a piano solo; Miss Alice Mansfield in a song revue; and Herman J. Phillips, who sang several French songs.

The arrangement of refreshment tables, and the decorations bore out the idea of a cabaret.

Highway Safety Urged By Mayor

Mayor William J. Dusel today joined the efforts of Governor James Rolph and chief executives of other states in seeking to promote highway safety.

The mayor issued the following proclamation:

"WHEREAS His Excellency, the Governor of this State, in joint and simultaneous effort with the governors of many other states has called upon the people in this commonwealth to devote themselves in a special effort during August to promote street and highway safety, and

"WHEREAS the regulation of motor vehicle traffic is recognized as an important problem in every community demanding the constant thought of many of our governmental agencies as well as the serious consideration of many private individuals in the community,

"I, therefore, urge upon the citizens of this city to use the streets, either as drivers or as pedestrians, with all possible care during the month of August so that in subsequent months the special effort will continue to result in a greater safeguarding of life and limb. I ask that everyone give full cooperation and wholehearted support to the traffic and police officials and other departments which rightfully have to do with the regulation of motor vehicle traffic, to the end that this city may show a record free from automobile accidents during the month. I earnestly call upon persons in every activity of life to participate in this worth while program."

California Forests To Get $3,500,000 Federal Funds

Under the terms of the emergency relief and regular appropriation bills passed by the last Congress, $3,584,615 will be spent this fiscal year in the national forests of Califfornia for the construction and improvement of forest highways, roads, trails, bridges and fire prevention projects, according to report of S. B. Show, chief of the California Region, United States Forest Service.

This is the largest sum ever received in one year by the local Forest Service for road and improvement work, and will furnish employment for large numbers of men.

Of the total Federal allotment to the national forests of California, $1,458,566 comes from the Emergency Relief Bill signed by President Hoover on July 21, which contained a $10,000,000 item to be expended in the national forests throughout the country for unemployment relief. The balance, $2,126,049, is a part of the regular Department of Agriculture appropriation for road and trail construction and protection improvements in the national forests.

Major roads within the national forests of California that form part of the standard state and county highway system, will receive $2,347,672, and an additional $1,236,943 will be expended on minor national forest roads, trails, firebreaks and other protection improvements.

"The U. S. Forest Service," said Mr. Show, "welcomes the opportunity to give substantial aid to those who are out of work. We are also planning to continue our cooperation with the California Unemployment Commission in the establishment of labor camps in or near the national forests as was done last winter."

Playgoer II Wins Bayshore Feature

Besting a field of Belmont's fleetest greyhounds, Playgoer II won the Inaugural at the Bayshore Kennel Club oval Monday night to mark the opening of the fall racing season there.

Playgoer came from behind to defeat Veach by two lengths. The two dogs placed in the same order in the Belmont derby at the last meeting.

Royal Palm, one of the favorites in the race, finished third and out of the money.

More than 10,000 spectators were on hand for the opening event at Belmont.

The fourth race on the program was ruled no contest when the leader caught the iron rabbit before crossing the finish line.

PROTEST BILL FOR PAVEMENT

Couple Seek To Halt Foreclosure Action Against Tract

Alleging overcharges of $27,847.18 for paving and other work done in Lloyden Park in Atherton and failure to complete the contract made with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coryell of Atherton, Ralph R. Strange and Edith Strange today answered the attempts to force foreclosure.

The Peninsula Paving Company is demanding $107,217.90 under a contract dated March 21, 1928, and has requested the American Trust Company to sell the property to satisfy its claim.

Strange says that no relief should be granted; that the action should be dismissed; that the amount due the paving firm, if any, should be determined; that it should be found the paving firm has failed to complete its contract; that there exists an overcharge, and that the paving firm has no right to proceed with its demand for foreclosure.

In defense of his allegations that the charges are excessive, Strange says the Coryells relied on Harry Lesser's statements that the unit prices were for the same amounts as the lowest bids submitted, but now charge Lesser falsely presented the statement with intent to deceive.

The defendants say that the pavement is uneven, that 10 fire hydrants are defective, that the water mains have broken, that the sidewalks are depressed, and that the grading is not up to specifications.

Baden Hound Pays Off At $486 In Win

Misstep Spree, making its first start at the Baden Kennel Club greyhound track at South San Francisco Monday, established a new record for pay-offs on western tracks when preferred options on the dog were redeemed for $486, at odds of 193 to 1.

The winner is owned by A. A. Faust and is one of several greyhounds brought to Baden recently from the Nassau Kennel Club, New York.

Of the four options sold on Misstep Spree, only two were presented for collection.

A crowd of 5000 fans was on hand at Baden Monday night for the second race program at the new track.

BURGLAR GETS 16-YEAR TERM

Folsom Sets Sentence Of Man Captured In Atherton

Term of sentence of Salvador Silverstrucci, 36, convicted four years ago of burglarizing the Atherton home of Camille Jouve during which nearly the entire household goods valued at between $10,000 and $20,000 were moved out, was fixed today by the prison board at Folsom at 16 years.

Silverstrucci was captured in his apartment in San Francisco by San Mateo county authorities after he had escaped from the Jouve estate when his companion, Joe Aquino, 32, was captured redhanded by the late Officer Stanley Wood of Atherton.

Aquino sat on the running board of an automobile when Officer Wood came up to him, and when asked what was in the car, said: "Laundry."

The officer reached into a bag and pulled out a handful of silver. He then arrested Aquino while Sheriff James J. McGrath and Atherton police searched the Jouve grounds and house for the ringleader.

The loot filled the upstairs rooms of the jail and included everything from beds and carpets to jewelry.

Jouve testified in justice court that he came home from San Francisco after a few hours absence to find even the foot of his bed missing. Everything in the house had been upturned by the burglars.

The burglary took place on the afternoon and evening of February 4, 1928.

Silverstrucci said Aquino was innocent, and sought to take the entire blame.

Aquino, however, was convicted of second degree burglary and was given a term of 10 years. Silverstrucci was convicted in Judge George H. Buck's court on first degree burglary.

Judge Buck and former District Attorney Franklin Swart found Silverstrucci had a "bad record and apparently had burglarized hundreds of homes." He admitted entering 20 places, the record shows.

Charles M. Culbertson of Atherton has departed for a three months' trip in the East. En route, he will spend several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culbertson, in Evansville, Ind.

PROTEST OF GAME MADE BY MANAGER

By EL THOMAS

Pushing across the deciding two runs in the first of the ninth inning after a series of hectic incidents in which victory for the local team hung in the balance, the Burlingame Hot-N-Kold nine defeated the Redwood City Eagles by a score of 4 to 3 in a close Peninsula Baseball League battle on the high school diamond here Sunday afternoon.

Starting out in a fashion which promised plenty of action, both teams registered two runs in the first inning and the Eagles took the lead with another in the third. A run that virtually meant victory for the Redwood City club came in during the seventh frame but was not allowed because the runner didn't touch third, the umpire ruled. This paved the way for a couple of disputed plays in the ninth and resulted in an announcement by Manager "Rocky" Rockhold of the Eagles that the Burlingame victory would be protested.

Ken Farrell Gets Homer

Talcott, lead-off man for the visitors, drew a pass in the first inning, was sacrificed to second by Gordon and scored on McCuster's three-bagger. Pitcher "Lefty" Hallett's single drove in McCuster.

Ray Farrell walked in the Eagles' half and dented the rubber as his part of a brother act when Ken (Dumb) Farrell clouted a terrific home run.

The same combination was good for another run in the third when Ray walked again, moved up on "Flash" Stephens' single and made it count on another base hit by Ken.

Elsworth Hatley, handled to the best of his ability by the veteran backstop, "Red" Howard, was given fine support all the way, particularly in the sixth when Stephens nailed Hallett's line drive in the far reaches of center field and in the seventh when Ken Farrell made another of his sensational stops at third on Nepote's grounder.

Killilea Robbed

It looked like things were in the bag for the Eagles in that seventh frame, when Killilea stretched a basehit neatly into a double and raced home on a timely single by Lawler. Burlingame's claim that Killilea didn't touch third was allowed, however, and the game went into the fatal frame with the Eagles carrying a very slim lead, 3-2.

Hallett came up with another hard-hit ball, this time into left center-field for a good double. Nepote was hit by a pitched ball after Stern struck out.

Crucial Play Disputed

With the signals up for a hit and run play, Hallett was caught a mile off second but Herman Marzlin, base umpire, ruled "safe." On a passed ball Hallett tried to take third and was again caught but this time Umpire Pohl ruled it "dead ball."

By this time, anything would have been good for a hit, although "Lefty" Goulison made the second out on a fly to shortstop. Williams, catcher, came up with a single through second to send Hallett home finally. Then Talcott, southpaw rightfielder, connected with another that brought in Nepote with the winning run.
